"Our Chance" to thrive

This year has offered us "Our Chance" to bring out unique individual qualities. The teachers had their chance to excel as students by attending classes on Monday nights for several months. As a result, some students realized that if our teachers could spend time learning in order to teach us more, then it was "Our Chance" to try harder also.

The administration had its chance to take the leadership role by working on our six-year plan in order to comply with new standards.

OUR CHANCE

SCHOOL LIFE

Thats Entertainment!!!

The teen scene and its fads brought in a walking world of art this 1984-85 year with bright fluorescent colors, the denim look, and the fad that "dropped in" - the parachute pants craze. Baggy ankle-length pants were strong along with stripes and dimensional designs on the latest styles. More great clothes for "social studies" were introduced as the 501's pre-shrunk jeans made their first appearance. Our old faithful Lees and Wranglers for those cowboys and cowgirls will probably always be in style.

Shoes also hit with living color appearing in styles as pumps, tennis shoes, new wave boots, and the new fashion-canvas in color.

In the entertainment world there were several new movies introduced. The famous "Ghostbusters", and the heartstriking "Gremlins", were two of the most favorite and appeared on the top charts for weeks.

Let's not forget the craze that was started as a slogan for Wendy's commercials. The ever popular, "Where's the Beef" craze hit hard!! This, crazy saying was everywhere; on shirts, hats, posters and just about anything else you could possibly think of.

Have you heard of the Sharp Dressed Man? Well, this is what you might call the Sharp Dressed Woman. Amy Horn is an eighth grader at F.J.S.

Clyde Clevenger and Mike Gross find it hard to believe that the beauty they just kissed on the cheek is their buddy, Andy Gauldin.

Taking a break from working on yearbook deadlines, Donna Whisenhunt, Editor for the Gator Staff, makes signs for the Senior High Homecoming Royalty.

A Summer of FUN!!!

Well it looks as if this seventh grader, Angel McRae, isn't amazed at what she sees during a Sr. High Pep Rally!

These sophomores, Angela Bishop, Christy Young, Deann Wright, and Jerry Key, show their pride in working on the float representing the Sophomore class!!

Having fun in the sun is a great pastime for students at F.H.S. Every student has his own idea of their favorite summer entertainment.

Water sports rank high in the field of entertainment for students. Whether it's just soaking up the sun on a lawnchair or even attempting to try the daring sport of waterskiing.

Although summer has its many exciting and energetic activities, some students look forward to just being able to sleep late and get up in time to watch their favorite day-time soap-opera. "Days of Our Lives", and the new soap, "Santa Barbara", are two favorites.

For some students, the summer brings even more fun at night!! Since school is out, the curfews are not as strong. But to most students, the summer means most to them to have extra time to be with the ones they love their friends!!

Keeping Up . . .

During the 1984-85 school year, many great and historical events were started that would have a great effect on many students lives

In Louisville, Kentucky, the first artificial heart transplant was performed, and in another section of the world, the first baboon heart was transplanted into a small newborn girl. She survived for 20 days but unfortunately, her kidneys malfunctioned, causing her death

In the 1984-85 presidential election, Ronald Reagan and Geraldine Ferraro ran against Walter Mondale and George Bush. Geraldine Ferraro was the first woman to be nominated to run for the Vice-Presidency

New standards were set for the Foreman Public Schools. They will prepare students for a brighter future and help them understand the importance of a proper education.

ACADEMICS

Math

Students had five choices of math. They were as follows: Algebra I, II, and Analysis-Trigonometry taught by Anita Baker. General Math I, II, and Algebra was taught by Denise Smith.

Sherri Smith and Pam Heath are discussing their Algebra.

Blake Corbell seems to be frustrated with chemistry class but Andy Gauldin continues to study

Toni Cooper does her science homework in class so she won't have to do it later

All students must take two years of science in order to graduate. For many students these years are filled with grueling math equations and long hours of studying for tests.

For other students it may be filled with exciting lab experiments and joyful experiences of learning.

The Science department has a new teacher this year, Don Jackson. Mr Jackson taught a new subject, Physics, to the Juniors this year. Students in this class were faced with difficult math equations.

Deanna Wills and Micheal Jones enjoy bending glass in the chemistry lab

Darrell Sain is doing his physical science work with the aid of a calculator.

Chris Clayton pays attention while Joe McDonald sleeps and Anita Powell whispers to her neighbor

Our chance to study business

A mood is set as soon as you step into the room. The air is filled with the clatter of metal hitting paper. The sound reminds you of many clocks ticking simultaneously. The machine in front of you is hard but warm. The electricity is pulsing, like blood flows, through the machine's veins. It brings vital substances to its components. You feel faintly fascinated at the ability of the square machine to produce millions of sentences, words, and phrases under the guidance of your fingertips.

Many students in Typing I, II, and Office Practice experience this every day that they go to class. In Typing I students learn the basics of typing. Typing II students practice more advanced typing skills. Office Practice includes typing and using adding machines.

Accounting is also offered to students taking business courses. Students learn many skills including the use of computers in accounting and how to fill out income tax returns.

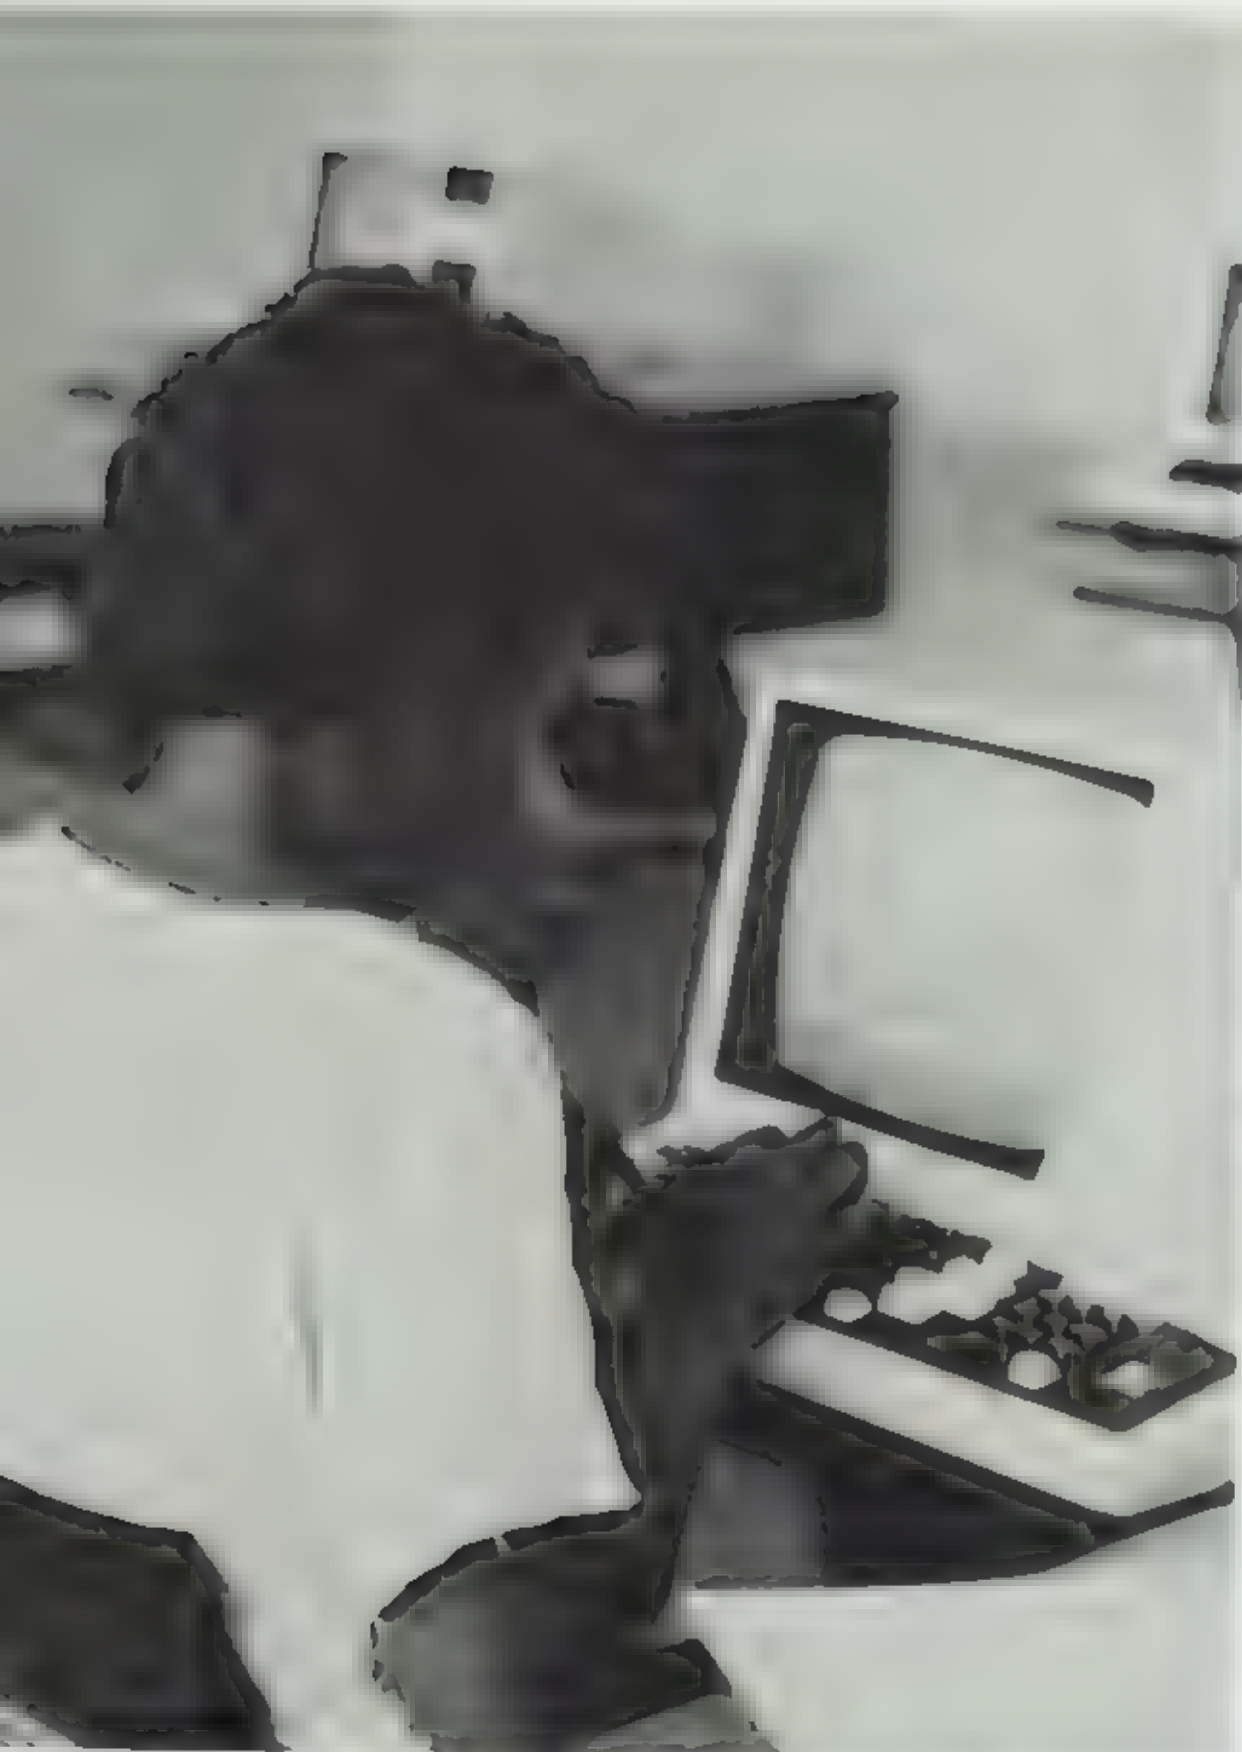

Kathy Hardwick is displeased with a result of a typed interoffice memorandum

Sheryl Threadgill concentrates on her copy as she enters information into the computer

Learning Our History

The Civics and Government classes took the annual trip to Little Rock to visit the capital February 20th. The students had the opportunity to meet Senator Wayne Dowd, State Representative Bubba Wade and Governor Bill Clinton. Students had pictures taken with them in the Governor's Conference room and on the front steps of the Capital. A tour guide took the students through the Capital showing them the various rooms and other points of interest.

Mindy Salem seems to enjoy reading Our Town in English class

Eric Roberts does his English homework while Vickie Royal looks for a story to read

The major work of literature studied by the juniors is Our Town. This year the juniors not only read the play but also had the opportunity to see it acted out. Nine of the juniors had roles in the play.

The seniors studied MacBeth and did interpretive readings of the soliloquies in the play.

The sophomores studied another of Shakespeare's works, Romeo and Juliet

The juniors and seniors spent a lot of their time working on term paper for English class. The seniors wrote on the topic of British Literature or history. Among the specific topics worked up by the students were: World War II, British Rock and Roll, and Stonehenge. The juniors' general topic was American Literature. The evaluation of science fiction was what one of the students chose as his topic.

Donald Carver studies his grammar homework to make sure it is right

Brad McCombs props his head up so he won't fall asleep while reading his literature book

Bruce Talley entered a poem in the Ark. Writing Contest. His poem was published in Let's Communicate.

¿Hahla español?

Spanish can be a very rewarding class to take. This is especially true when you know someone who has lived in a country where it is spoken and can speak it.

The Spanish class subscribes to a Spanish magazine entitled ¿QUE TAL? In English this means "how are you". This magazine is written entirely in Spanish. In it you can find Garfield cartoons just like any in other magazine we are familiar with.

Angela Golden works on her Spanish II homework in class so she won't have to do it at home.

Brian Garney works hard on his report of Venezuela in Spanish class.

Vo-Tech

Students are offered a Vo-Tech program. The students who attended it are as follows from left to right in the photographs. Russell Carrell, Connie Heath, Shane Hollowell, Dale Knighten, Susan Langlois, Kelly Oglesby, Tonya Parker, Joe Reed, Tommy Sain, Dorothy Shoals, Stephanie Shoals, Todd Wade, Norma Wright.

Daryl Roberts carefully corrects his typing mistakes with liquid paper.

Hard work produces results

This year the Gator staff had "their chance" to prove what can come out of a lot of hard work and pig-headed determination. But along with this hard work, they were also able to share a lot of memorable times together, both good and bad.

Although there were times that looked almost hopeless due to close deadlines, they managed to struggle through with only a few cuts and scratches but with the satisfaction of knowing that their deadlines were finally off to the publisher.

No one will ever be able to forget this year, for this class was one of the most unique classes that has ever been. Each member gave something that will never be forgotten. Mrs. Traywick probably will never be able to forget the pizza escapades where the staff loaded up in her van and went to Texarkana to eat pizza. The shopping sprees in Wal-Mart always set the evening off.

Nancy Latham and Steven B. Miller are enjoying an amusing moment in journalism.

Drama Club presented Our Town, the distinguished Pulitzer Prize play from the pen of Thornton Wilder.

Steven B. Miller portrayed the central character of the "stage manager". Others featured in the unusually large cast were Jay Smith, Bryan Garney, James Keeney, Nancy Latham, Renae Milam, John Frady, Gina Oliver, Paul Gregory, Carey Bowman, Mar Newman, Shawn Kelley, Brenda Keeney, Kim Tolleson, Sherri Anderson, Maya Robbins and Angela Akins.

The production was under the direction of Mr. W.C. Traywick. On the technical staff were Sheila McElhannon and Paige Cleghorn. Programs were handed out by Kim Russell.

their Poultry judging team. FFA members show their livestock at the district and state fairs. The FFA usually does very well in these competitions.

Each year the FFA has a Chili Supper/Auction to raise money for the club. Tasty chili is served at a reasonable price but most of the money comes from the auction in which FFA members are auctioned off

“Our chance to Govern”

Pete Wiseman watches the ball while Coach Harris out jumps Jerry Key during the Student Council/Teacher Basketball game

Although the Student Council does not have the power that it once did, it does help in any way possible. Each year members have a project to help raise funds for charities. This year the male student council members challenged the male teachers to a game of basketball. Admission to the game was one toy and all the toys were given to “Toys for Tots” at Christmas.

The Student Council is also in charge of the “Who’s Who” elections. Members decide on categories, take up the ballots and count all the votes.

The Student Council elections are sometimes a very exciting part of the school year. Candidates campaign for votes by hanging up posters with their campaign slogans on them and requesting votes personally. These elections allow the students a chance at a democratic election. Sometimes the best person for the job is not elected. The process has occasionally become merely a popularity contest, but isn’t that a lot like the real thing?

The members of Student Council are as follows: Steven B. Miller, Don Williams, Michelle Russell, Pete Wiseman, Michael Jones, Carey Bow

Their second performance was "Our Town," by Thornton Wilder. This was the first time a play was performed while students studied the same work in their English classes.

New lights and curtains were purchased this year and along with that, a new tradition was made. From now on, after every performance, there will be a cast party given for the mem-

Our chance to remember . . .

On March 27, many students arrived to find the building that was often referred to as the "old gym" burned to the ground.

The fire, which started the night before in the attic, was caused by faulty electrical systems. Maintenance equipment stored in the building caused explosions, which increased the fervency of the fire.

Fire departments from surrounding communities and cities attempted to put out the fire but could only keep the fire from spreading to the other parts of the school.

The building was built in 1942 by the WPA. The gym was a first for the area and Foreman was very lucky to get it. In the late 70's many changes were made in the gym. A wall was built across half-court and a handball and art rooms were built on the other side of the wall. Some of it was used for storage space and the existing part of the gym was recently used for baseball practice during bad weather.

Mr. Crews, the band director estimated damage to band equipment at approximately $40,000. Thousands of dollars of equipment and the actual building were lost but one can't put a price on all of the memories that were made in the "old gym".

The fervent heat of the fire caused this dumbbell bar to bend

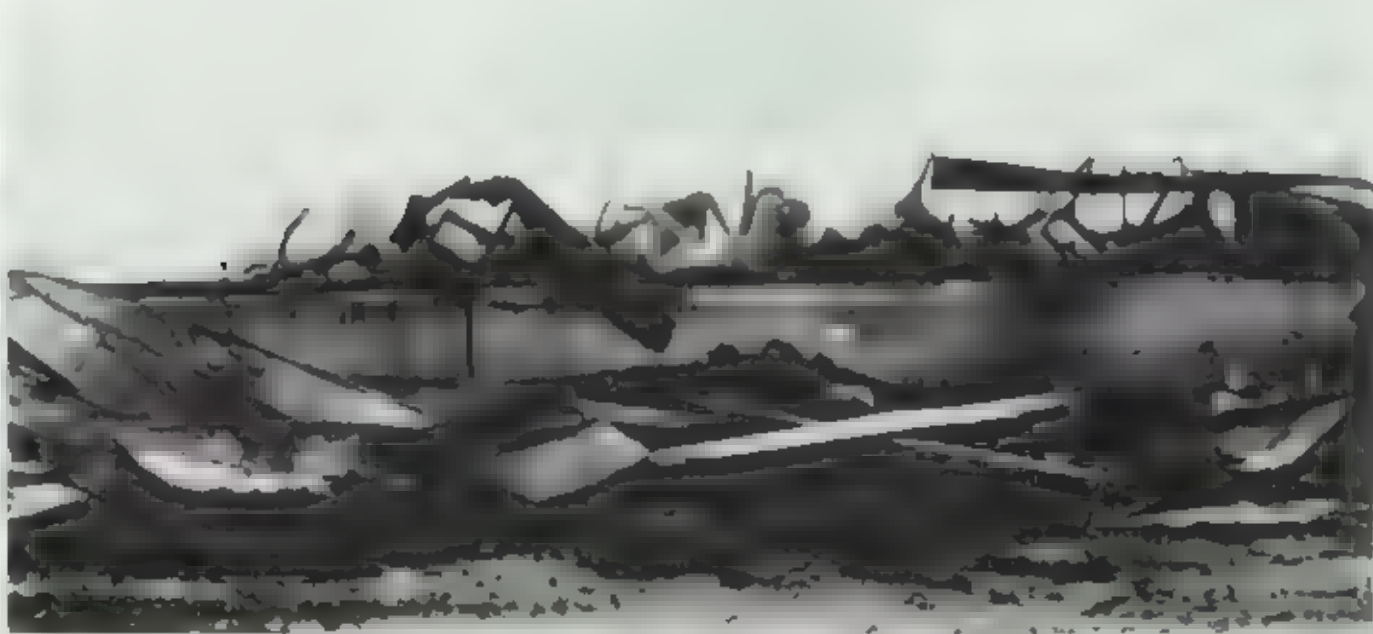

Area fire departments could not put out the fire but could only keep the fire from spreading to the rest of the school

... and begin again

Through the smoke, hardly distinguishable, are the weight bars and pieces of equipment used in the weight program

Ghost of desks piled in storage are all that remained after the fire

Here lies the ground on which the "old gym" stood for 43 years with only a piece of metal standing upright to prove there ever was an "old gym". Another building will soon occupy the ground on which it stood but no building can ever replace it

As long as the game lasts, let's give it all we have.

Under the leadership of the new coach Earl Williamson the Gators came out with a 7-2 record for the season. Their year began with an unsuccessful victory over the Stamps Yellowjackets 21 to 0. Three players were injured during the season: they were Michael Jones, Jerry Key, and Michael Hatchett. Seven Seniors were on the team: they were Tim Howard who was captain over the Homecoming, Terry Smith, Michael Jones, Derrick Danderfield, Blake Corbell, Bobby Hatchett and Gary Brown.

The Gator's Homecoming game against the Fouke Panthers was a successful victory 16 to 0, Horace Berry and Rodney Brown scored the touchdowns, following their homecoming victory, the Gators were on their way to a very successful season.

The Gators last game was against the Murfreesboro Rattlers. This game kept everyone on the edge of their seats. The Gators had the Rattlers 13-7 and in the last three minutes of the game the Rattlers scored and took the victory 13-14. Seven Gators received all-district. They were: Horace Berry, Emmit Adcock, Bobby Hatchett, Terry Smith, Brad McCombs, Dock Moore and Gary Brown. The Gators learned something valuable and it was "As long as the game lasts lets give it all we have."

The Gator team runs onto the field looking forward to, and hoping for another victory

Senior Homecoming

For the first time in a while the Senior football boys participated in the evening homecoming activities. The Homecoming this year was extremely different. Aside from the evening activities the afternoon Homecoming was held in the auditorium, beginning at 2:30 p.m., followed by a parade. At the evening activities the guys walked the girls to the arch where they were met by their escorts and escorted off the field.

Junior High Homecoming

Junior High Homecoming coronation was in the auditorium because the gym floor was not completely repaired as a result of broken water pipes that previous winter. Steven McRae played the piano as the girls were escorted through the audience. The attendants were Susan Taaffe, Amy Horn, and Stacy Jones.

A downpour drenched the fans, players, and court. The team lost their game but all these things added to special memories.

Our Chance to . . .

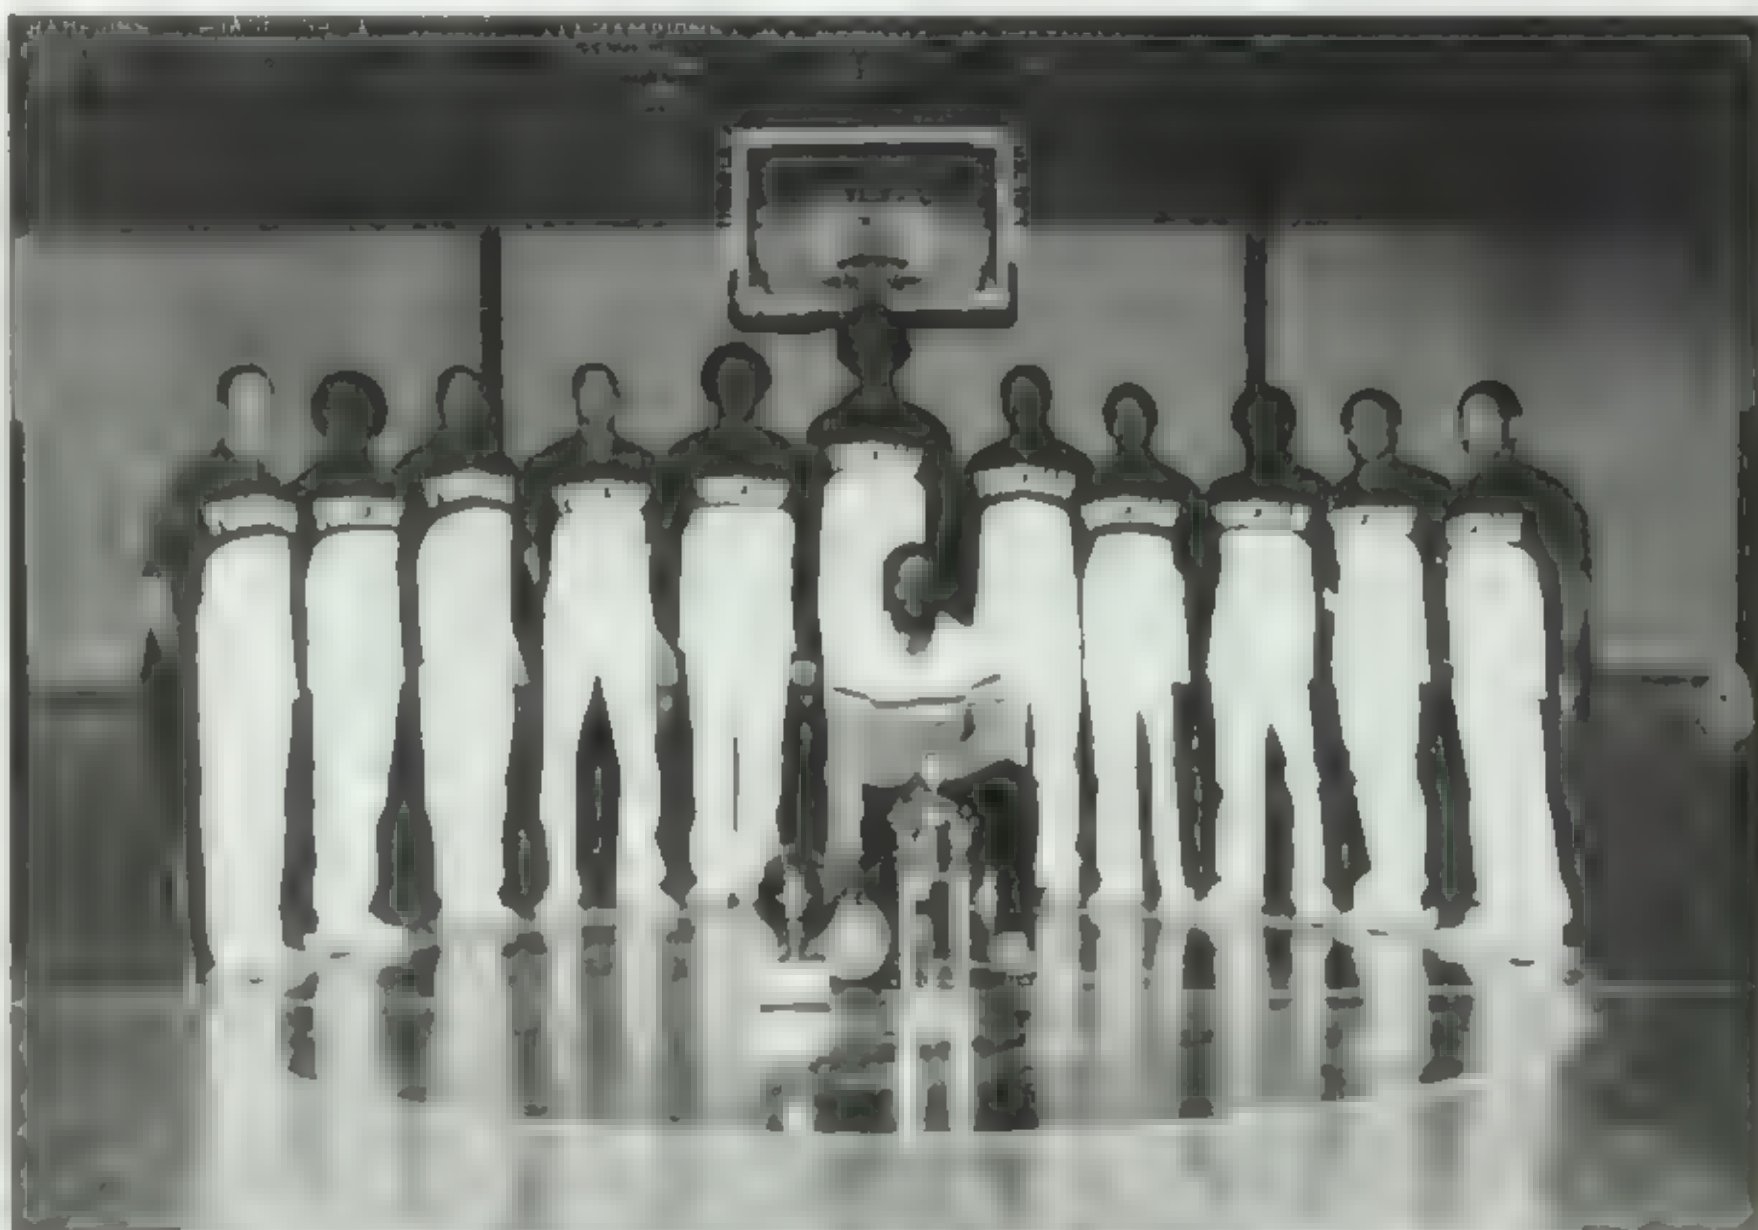

Senior Boys' Team

The Senior boys' team took their chance and ended the season with a conference record of 8 and 4, and a season record of 16 and 10. This was the first year in five years that the team has not been in the state play-offs.

Coach Harris said "We were really disappointed in the season ending. It wasn't the lack of 'want to' or effort, we just had some bad breaks."

Eight Seniors including Victor Nash, Geary Brown, Tim Howard, Derek Dangerfield, David Daniels, Bobby Hatchett, Michael Jones, and Jerrold Hardwick, will be leaving the team.

After many evenings of practicing unto perfection, finally the night had come and everything was complete. The lights dimmed, the music started and the pageant began. As the music played, the contestants made their way on stage and took their turns just as they had practiced so many times.

The pageant for Miss Little River County took place in the Foreman High School auditorium at 7:00 p.m. Monday night, September 3rd, 1984. Two of the 5 contestants were from Foreman, one of which would later be crowned as Miss Little River County Queen.

Karen Kay Southerland, a 1985 graduate from Foreman was chosen Queen. "I won $560 in cash, gift certificates and savings bonds from various sponsors in Little River County, and went on to compete in the 3rd district and state fair pageants" stated Karen Kay.

In high school, Karen Kay was a member of the National Honor Society and was a cheerleader for 3 years.

old values... NEW IDEAS.

The establishment of a sound educational system was a priority when our country was young, over 200 years ago. And while new ideas continually need to be incorporated, old values endure.

We draw strength from the educational base of our community. It helps supply us with the talent necessary to compete in today's world, and enhances our heritage of dedication, enthusiasm, and hard work.

At Nekoosa, the combination of old values and new ideas are the building blocks of tomorrow. And working together, we cement them with care.

Celebrations come in many forms

Graduating kindergarten students await the procession

Deanna Wills and Paula Woods keep watch over the NHS candle.

The class of 1985 is also to be the Senior class of 1997

Mrs. Farmer and Michelle Russell exchange momentos

Kevin Cowling presented his eighth grade diploma by Mr. Elrod

"Our Chance" to strive to be

The Sr. Football team had its chance to make a trip to the state play-offs, but unfortunately lost that chance by a flip of a coin. The Sr. Girls' Basketball team had its chance to attend the state play-offs, but were defeated by Bismark at the regionals. Both the Jr. and Sr. Girls' Basketball teams were district champs. 1984-85 was truly "Our Chance" to prevail in Athletics.

Each individual in the

the Best in '85

community had "Their Chance" to support their schools and did so when they passed a 6.7 mill increase. This millage increase will help Foreman meet the new educational standards.

The past school term could not have been known as "Our Chance" if each individual of the school and community had not shown his/her own special characteristics and support.
